World War 1 Research

Continuing research into Lodge Members by Bro. Stuart Jack, P.M. has led to a fantastic meeting with Bro. George Wilson Wylie's family. Bro. Wylie is one of our five Brethren who was killed in action in World War 1 and has no known grave. Unknown to

Bro. Stuart Jack, his family has recently been conducting their own research into family history and Bro. George Wilson Wylie's Military career. Wilson Martin, Bro. Wylie's great Grandson had carried out on the internet a search for photos of his Great Grandfather and much to his surprise a match was found in the Lodge St. Bryde Homepage! In fact the Lodge Homepage contained more information on George Wylie than the Family had uncovered. An emotional phone call to our Lodge Secretary by Wilson Martin led to an invitation for the family to visit the Lodge and view their Great Grandfathers signature in the Lodge Roll Book. This invitation was warmly received by the family and on 26th. October, four generations of the family visited the Masonic Hall and were warmly greeted by Bro. Stuart and James Jack. They viewed the Roll Book and Stuarts research papers and concluded that Bro. Wylie had joined the Lodge on the same evening as a friend from Shettleston, in fact four Initiates from Shettleston are recorded within a month of each other. The Family presented a £200 cheque to Stuart to continue his research. Fantastic work by Stuart Jack

Historic Meeting of Lodge Sir Robert Moray No. 1641

Lodge Sir Robert Moray No. 1641 celebrated their 50th. Anniversary on the 25th. October 2018. Nothing unusual about that, except that the meeting was held in the home of the Founding Master, R.W. Bro. Lord Elgin at Broom hall House in Fife. Bros. Stuart and James Jack (a member of 1641 for 35 years) attended the meeting in the fantastic surroundings of one of Scotland’s most famous family homes. Bro. Lord Elgin gave a short talk on the relationship between his ancestor and Sir Robert Moray which eventually led to the formation of The Royal Society.
